Mains

Choose 4 to complete during the term.

- Cover your homework book and use your creative skills by making it personal to you, your personality and interests.
- Create a family tree and show/recognise how everyone in your family are related. Why not include members of your extended family and show their relation also?
- Create a document such a poster, pamphlet, video or PowerPoint presentation describing yourself, that includes as much information about who you are and what makes you unique. How about including things that are important to you and why?
- Show me how you belong to your local area. Do you live near a local landmark? What clubs or groups are you a part of? Do you have connections to people or places outside of our local area? You could draw a map of your local area to show this.
- Think of creative ways to categorise different animals and living things. For example, they could be categorised into vertebrates or invertebrates. Could you label them and explain why they are in certain categories?
- Create an information booklet on the human body. You could choose a specific part of the body or the whole thing, for example, the digestive system. Could you explain how it works and the role of every part?

Remember you can Tweet your work to us on Twitter using the handle @penalltau or upload work to J2E.

Dessert

Optional during the term.
How about...

-Create a self portrait that include elements of your personality. Why not emulate a famous artist such as Picasso or Van Gogh?

-Create a model/ picture showing all the bones in your skeleton. Why not create a 3D model of the inner parts of the body and explain the importance of each part? For example, the digestive system.

- Photograph members of your family. Why not edit some of the photos by experimenting with different filters?
